

Touchstone Energy

Chariton Valley Electric Cooperative has joined forces with Touchstone Energy Cooperatives. Touchstone Energy is a nationwide alliance that represents more than 680 consumer-owned electric cooperative in 46 states, and compliments the local connection that cooperatives have with their member-owners while providing the resources of a vast, integrated network of cooperatives.

Touchstone Energy cooperatives deliver power and energy solutions to more than 40 million members every day. Electric cooperatives distribute power for 75 percent of the U.S. land mass over 2.4 million miles of power lines.

Electric cooperatives were established to provide electricity to rural America, and now make up the largest electric utility network in the nation. Touchstone Energy is the national brand identity for that network.

Touchstone Energy co-ops are owned by the members they serve and are committed to providing reliable electricity at the lowest price possible. They provide high standards of service according to their four core values:

- Integrity
- Accountability
- Innovation
- Commitment to community
